SPEAKERS

Angie Carter

Angie Carter is an OT and Independent consultant who has bringing innovation to health and social care since 2007. Over the past eight years she been working with clinicians in the UK to bring the award winning innovation – IQoro, to the NHS and those working in independent healthcare.

Angie will bring insights into how IQoro is being used as a therapeutic tool by SLTs in the UK and their experiences

- Treating those with chronic and acute dysphagia, as a result of stroke, ABI etc – avoiding and removing the need for PEG feeds,
- Treating patients with reflux related voice issues
- Treating drooling in children and young adults with cerebral palsy.

Nidhi Srivastava

Nidhi Srivastava brings over 24 years of experience spanning both the corporate and social sectors. For the past 7+ years at Nayi Disha, she has led key verticals, including Digital Outreach and the Service Provider Directory, and currently heads HR & Partnerships.

She believes in building strong ecosystems where professionals and families of individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) collaborate to create a lasting impact.

In this session, Nidhi will introduce Nayi Disha, highlight the importance of professionals joining our national directory of service providers, and share how they can become part of our growing community supporting individuals with disabilities and their caregivers.
