INTRODUCTION

Rehabilitation for Persons with Disabilities (Divyangjan) is related to a range of measures from interventions to improve body function for social inclusion and integration. As per Article 26, United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD) defines rehabilitation as “appropriate measures, including through peer support, to enable persons with disabilities to attain and maintain their maximum independence, full physical, mental, social and vocational ability, and full inclusion and participation in all aspects of life”. It is estimated that in India, 2.21% of total population, around 2.68 corers have one or other form of disability. The Constitution of India ensures equality, freedom, justice and dignity of all individuals and implicitly mandates an inclusive society for all including Persons with special abilities. In the recent years, there have been vast and positive changes in the perception of the society towards persons with disabilities. It has been realized that a majority of differently abeled can lead a better quality of life if they have equal opportunities and effective access to rehabilitation measures. The services of Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Prosthetic & Orthotic, Communication therapy/Speech-Language Therapy, Audiological intervention professionals along with other medical & paramedical professionals are essential at different stage to prevent, manage disability and their rehabilitation.

DISABILITY HAS BEEN BROADLY GROUPED AS:

The number of recognized disability conditions has been increased from 7 to 21 in the RPwD Act 2016. Following are the disability conditions included in the RPwD Act 2016:

1. Blindness
2. Low-vision
3. Leprosy Cured persons
4. Hearing Impairment (deaf and hard of hearing)
5. Locomotor Disability
6. Dwarfism
7. Intellectual Disability
8. Mental Illness
9. Autism Spectrum Disorder
10. Cerebral Palsy
11. Muscular Dystrophy
12. Chronic Neurological conditions
13. Specific Learning Disabilities
14. Multiple Sclerosis
15. Speech and Language disability
16. Thalassemia
17. Hemophilia
18. Sickle Cell disease
19. Multiple Disabilities including deaf-blindness
20. Acid Attack victim
21. Parkinson's disease

Although Government, NGOs and some civil society Institutions have been providing services to the persons with disabilities since long, but these efforts have gained momentum since 1970's, when the decade was marked by a new approach to disability with the concept of "Rights for Disabled Persons". The United Nations took the lead and issued declarations relating to Rights to the Disabled Persons (1975). The 1983-92 was declared as the “Decade of the Disabled Persons”. This was followed by the “Asia and Pacific Decade of Disabled Persons” (1993-2002). The standard rules for the equalization of opportunities for persons with disabilities were adopted by the UN General Assembly in 1993.

In 1995, Indian Parliament introduced “Persons with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Rights and Full Participation) Act” 1995, is adopted by all the states and union territories. The act defines the responsibilities of the central and state Governments regard to the services to the persons with disabilities. It mandates affirmative action for ensuring useful life to disabled person and refers to the need for action on prevention of disability, provision of medical and other services to minimize the impact of impairment on account of diseases & accidents etc. It also refers to rehabilitation through education, vocational training, barrier free environments, assistive aids and other interventions. In 2016, Country finally witnessed the much awaited Rights of Persons with Disabilities (RPwD) Bill on 14th December, 2016 in the Rajya Sabha and subsequently in the Lok Sabha on 16th December, 2016. The Bill was further approved and signed by the Hon'ble President and 'notified' by the Government in its official Gazette on 28th December, 2016. Thus, RPWD Bill 2016 was 'enacted' and became a ‘LAW’, the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (RPWD) Act, 2016. It covers 21 categories of disabilities from the previous 7 categories under the 1995 Act, this new Act lays complete emphasis on one’s rights – right to equality and opportunity, right to inherit and own property, right to home and family and reproductive rights among others. Unlike the 1995 Act, the new Act talks about accessibility - setting a two-year deadline for the government to ensure that persons with disabilities get barrier-free access to physical infrastructure and transport systems. Additionally, it will also hold the private sector accountable. This also includes educational institutions ‘recognized’ by the government such as privately owned universities and colleges. A path-breaking feature of the new Act is the increase in reservation in government & private jobs from 3% to 4%. Govt. of India has established several National Institutes to train professionals/manpower in the field of rehabilitation. National Institutes are Autonomous bodies established for different types of disabilities. The following National Institutes are engaged in Human Resources Development in the field of disability, providing rehabilitation services to the persons with disabilities and Research and Development efforts:-
